W.A. Gullick, Esq.,
Chairman,
Committee on Printing of Records of
Australasian Antarctic Expedition.

Dear Mr. Gullick,

I think your reply to Sir Douglas Mawson covers the position admirably. I think, however, in view of Sir Douglas's utter carelessness and the likelihood of his again going to sleep it would not be amiss if you added a postscript to your letter worded somewhat as follows.-

On the receipt of the case of relics which you have advised sending and of the other assets which you have arranged to send during the next three months, the Committee will doubtless review the position again. Although you do not specifically mention it I presume you are taking steps immediately to have the correspondence, minutes and other records of the Committee in Melbourne forwarded to me.

If you think that this is too long a postscript you will no doubt be able to suggest in fewer words to Sir Douglas Mawson that the instalment of the assets that he is sending will not entirely satisfy us.

I remain, Dear Mr. Gullick,
Yours faithfully,

PRINCIPAL LIBRARIAN.
